PUBLIC SQUARE

To submit announcements for consi
send a typed letter to Public Square News-Press staff. (Photo requireme listings to listings@newspress.cor
space available.

TAKE A BOW

COURTESY PHOTO

Back row, from left, Ron Boehm, CEO of ABC-CLIO, and Becky Snyder, president of ABC-CLIO, meet with Fun in the Sun participants and United Way CEO Paul Didier, back row right.

During a recent meeting of the Lunch Bunch at La Patera School, kids feasted on hot dogs from Albertsons supermarket, while ABC-CLIO CEO Ron Boehm and president Becky Snyder donated two computers loaded with educational software for use by the Fun in the Sun program.

Employees from local companies volunteer their lunch hours to spend time with young participants in the Lunch Bunch. It's one of many activities in Fun in the Sun, a seven-week summer enrichment program for more than 300 area at-risk youths, run by United Way of Santa Barbara County.