By any measure, 2018 was a year of extremes. It began with a disaster unprecedented in scope and severity, leaving us in shock and grieving the losses suffered by so many. Our community’s response was unprecedented as well. Working with the United Ways of Ventura and Greater Los Angeles, we were able to bring significant funding to local nonprofits administering aid, and offer direct relief to affected individuals and families.

As long-term disaster relief efforts continued, 2018 also saw meaningful progress in our initiatives to improve rates of literacy, financial stability, and general health throughout Santa Barbara County. It was made possible by the generous support and hard work of our many donors and volunteers, and the incredible community organizations that we are so fortunate to work in partnership with.

Steve Ortiz, President and CEO,
United Way of Santa Barbara County
United Way’s Thomas Fire and Flood Fund made distributions to 20 nonprofit organizations instrumental in Santa Barbara County’s relief efforts.

Habitat for Humanity of Southern Santa Barbara County moved rapidly to provide much-needed home repairs for the most vulnerable affected populations. Their work, which continued with ongoing debris flow cleanup operations, was aided by a distribution from the Thomas Fire and Flood Fund.

Eighteen Teams from the National Search Dog Foundation braved the aftermath of the Montecito mudslide in the group’s largest deployment since Hurricane Katrina. While it costs $20,000 to recruit, train, and care for each of these canine heroes, the Search Dog Foundation provides their services free of charge.

As the group receives no government funding, a distribution from the Thomas Fire and Flood Fund has helped to assure their ability to respond to future emergencies.

Thomas Fire and Flood Fund
Fund Distribution at a Glance

The United Way Thomas Fire and Flood Fund was jointly established by the United Ways of Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties in order to help the region recover. Additional funds were secured by UWSBC from the Southern California Wildfire Fund, and delivered in partnership with United Way of Greater Los Angeles. One hundred percent of the funds raised went directly to affected individuals and families, in addition to the organizations serving them.

Disbursements to Santa Barbara County individuals and families ranged from $500 to $10,000, and were based on recommendations made through Family Service Agency’s case management process. Santa Barbara County residents eligible for assistance included next of kin of individuals who lost their lives as a result of the debris flow; those who suffered damage to or total loss of their primary residence (including renters) and/or personal property (including vehicles); and people who were unable to work during or after the fire or debris flow.

Additional disbursements included funding for unmet needs and ongoing preparedness and rebuilding activities in Santa Barbara County, including the creation and maintenance of the Montecito Center for Preparedness, Rebuilding, and Recovery—a one-stop location where affected residents could find information and resources provided by the many local agencies involved in relief efforts.

Additional disbursements supported the rebuilding and clean-up projects undertaken by Habitat for Humanity in Montecito.

Thomas Fire and Flood Fund Long-Term Recovery Committee

This multi-sector group of community leaders reviewed and finalized funding requests from local organizations, and criteria for distributions to families and individuals.

“United Way of Santa Barbara County raised millions to fund the nonprofits helping survivors, and provided hundreds of people with desperately needed cash grants. Every single dollar raised went directly to disaster assistance.

With the help of United Way of Santa Barbara County, we were able to channel the support of our community into concrete benefits for those who needed help the most.”

Last Year $4.59 Million Was Distributed Locally to Improve Literacy, Financial Stability, and Health

In 2018, through United Way of Santa Barbara County, our community invested $4.59 million in three major local initiatives.

- 71% came from individuals
- 20% came as corporate gifts
- 5% came from foundations
- 4% came as bequests

For the past several years, United Way of Santa Barbara County has focused its efforts on three major initiatives specifically designed to improve lives and create a brighter future for everyone in Santa Barbara County.

Working with our community partner organizations, we have developed a range of innovative and effective programs that support the United for Literacy, United for Financial Empowerment, and United for Health Initiatives.

United for Literacy Initiative

The United for Literacy Initiative (UFL) has helped thousands of children, families, and seniors in Santa Barbara County improve their literacy skills through a continuum of programs focused on three related areas of service:

- Parental Engagement and Education
- Increased Access to Books
- School-Based Education Programs

Since United for Literacy’s Inception:

- More than 35,000 local students have improved their academic performance through UFL Programs.
- Four local school districts have implemented district-wide Power Reading and/or Power Math Programs.
- Almost 100,000 new books have been given to local children ages 0 to 5 in Santa Barbara County.

United for Literacy is supported by these programs:
- Fun in the Sun
- Power Reading
- Power Math
- Kindergarten Success Institutes
- Parent Success Institutes
- Dolly Parton Imagination Library
- Campaign for Grade Level Reading
- Goleta Union Literacy Partnership

60% of UWSBC’s 2018 $4.59 million investment in the community went to the United for Literacy Initiative.

UNITED WAY OF SANTA BARBARA COUNTY

United for Health Initiative

The United for Health Initiative (UFH) serves Santa Barbara County’s most vulnerable residents—seniors and lower-income families. UFH programs focus on helping them deal with the rising costs of healthcare and increasing wellness through:

- Discounts on Prescriptions and Health Services
- Increased Access to Health Screenings and Healthcare Services
- Education on Nutrition and High-risk Behaviors

Since United for Health’s inception:
- Over 260,000 individuals received health care services through United Way programs and community partner organizations.
- Santa Barbara residents received nearly one and a quarter million health visits and services through United for Health Programs.

15% of UWSBC’s 2018 $4.59 million investment in the community went to the United for Health Initiative.

United for Financial Empowerment Initiative

The United for Financial Empowerment Initiative (UFFE) is a partnership of 13 local nonprofit organizations, financial institutions, and more than 150 volunteers. Working together, they help lower-income Santa Barbara County residents achieve long-term financial stability through programs focusing on:

- Financial Literacy Education
- Free Assistance with Filing Income Tax Returns
- Encouraging Saving and Sound Financial Practices

Since United for Financial Empowerment’s inception:
- More than 22,000 income tax returns were filed at no cost for low-income individuals, families, and seniors.
- Over $33 million in tax refunds came back to local residents, helping them build long-term assets and become more financially stable.

25% of UWSBC’s 2018 $4.59 million investment in the community went to the United for Financial Empowerment Initiative.

Fun in the Sun
An Award-winning Summer Learning Program

Fun in the Sun provides integrated educational, artistic, relational, and recreational activities that foster behavioral and academic success by helping participants to develop greater:

Reading, Science, and Math Achievement and Enjoyment
Positive Self-identity and Self-control
Positive Perceptions of Family and Community Support

Now in its 23rd year, this six-week summer learning program serves 300 financially and academically at-risk grade 3 to 12 children and 200 parents at five sites in southern Santa Barbara County. Fun in the Sun (FITS) has repeatedly received national recognition and awards for its comprehensive academic enrichment curriculum and family support services.

Fun in the Sun was created locally and is administered locally. It is a collaboration of more than 70 service delivery partners, over 20 funding partners, and more than 600 community volunteers. Through their efforts, 100 percent of FITS attendees had measurably improved reading skills by the end of the program. This is in stark contrast to the average loss of three months in academic achievement experienced by most low-income students over the summer.

At Fun in the Sun, students participate in daily three-hour morning sessions that include: literacy improvement; science, technology, engineering, arts, and math (STEAM) activities with online components and workshops; service-learning projects; character and values development activities; and fitness-oriented physical education.

During lunch, adult volunteers from local companies and organizations (the “Lunch Bunch”) mentor FITS participants. Whether discussing their own professions or talking about the students’ dreams and aspirations, these volunteers make the kids feel special and valued by their community.

In the afternoon, students engage in enrichment activities that include: financial literacy sessions; cooking and nutrition classes; and field trips to local colleges, hospitals, museums, and workplaces.

In addition, participants receive dental and vision screenings, nutritious meals and snacks, and weekly take-home bags containing fresh fruits and vegetables, school supplies, and clothing.

“Even though I had a rough childhood that is difficult for me to talk about, I like sharing the impact that Fun in the Sun had on my life, because that is where I truly felt the motivation to succeed. I was given not only the liberty to dream beyond my reality, but also the tools to make those dreams possible.”

School-based Education Programs

United Way of Santa Barbara County administers and supports a coordinated set of literacy and academic improvement programs called Power Reading and Power Math in 31 schools and seven different agencies in Santa Barbara County.

Combining innovative technology with individual instruction, these programs have been extremely effective at boosting reading grade levels and high school graduation rates for all students.

The need could not be more clear. In Santa Barbara County, 70 percent of third graders from economically disadvantaged families read below grade level. Research shows that third-grade literacy is an accurate predictor of high school graduation because that is when “learning to read” becomes “reading to learn.” It is hard for students left behind at this critical juncture to make up lost ground, and those from lower-income families often end up years behind their more affluent peers. They are less likely to graduate high school; and are at risk for low lifetime earnings, poor health, crime and incarceration, and reliance on public assistance—all of which come at considerable cost to our community.

This is why United Way of Santa Barbara County has made community-based programs that address the challenges faced by local students a top priority, and is working to see those programs implemented as widely and effectively as possible.

Campaign for Grade Level Reading

This national program of services for children from birth through third grade prioritizes the number one predictor of school success—third grade reading levels. It has been designed to aid the nearly three-quarters of economically disadvantaged third graders in Santa Barbara County who do not read at grade level.

Santa Barbara County’s comprehensive action plan was approved by the national Campaign for Grade Level Reading in 2017. It is led locally by United Way, along with the Santa Barbara Housing Authority, Public Library, and Santa Barbara Unified School District’s A-OK Program; as well as People’s Self-Help Housing and the Turner Foundation.

Through a coordinated set of services, the Campaign helps lower-income families improve early school readiness, narrow the school attendance gap, reduce summer learning loss, and increase parental engagement.

Goleta Union Literacy Partnership

In 2016, United Way of Santa Barbara County and the Goleta Union School District launched a three-year partnership to provide the Power Reading literacy improvement program to all 3,500 students in the District’s nine schools. The partnership is supported by extensive teacher involvement, training, and ongoing standards-based evaluation by United Way.

When Power Reading is employed as part of a blended educational model that incorporates traditional teaching methods, the results can be significant. During the partnership’s second year of implementation, the percentage of students working below grade level decreased from 66% to 38%.

―Donna Lewis, Superintendent, Goleta Union School District.

“United Way is a highly valued partner with the Goleta Union School District. Our K-6 students’ reading skills have improved greatly due to reading development programs such as Lexia and Reading Plus. Summer Fun in the Sun is a highly engaging program designed to support our children during the summer months. We love the Kindergarten Success Institute because it provides an essential foundation for our incoming kindergarten students. None of this would be possible without United Way.”
Kindergarten Success Institutes

For 18 years, Kindergarten Success Institutes (KSI) have improved the lives of low-income 4 to 6 year olds by helping them succeed in school. These little ones have little or no prior educational experience, and are often terrified at being away from home for the first time. They have extremely limited knowledge of letters, numbers, shapes, and colors; haven’t learned classroom behaviors like sitting quietly, raising their hand, or sharing with others; and—incredible as it might seem— may not even know their own first name.

At KSI sessions before and after school, and during the summer at ten local sites, United Way of Santa Barbara County provides credentialed teachers and a research-based curriculum designed to help these beginning students master essential social, language, and motor skills. Teaching is individualized to each student’s particular needs, and their progress is carefully monitored with standardized assessment tools.

In some Santa Barbara County school districts, as many as two-thirds of incoming 4 to 6 year olds test as “not ready for kindergarten.” Teachers tell us that number grows dramatically every year. Kindergarten Success Institutes are a bright spot in this otherwise discouraging picture. Over the program’s history, participants have improved their kindergarten readiness scores by more than 50 percent. In 2018 alone, KSI boosted the readiness scores of nearly 200 students by an average of 55 percent.

“Kindergarten Success Institutes provide a foundation for children that cannot be measured by an assessment; it helps children enter school as confident students.”

—Krista Munizich, 18-year KSI Instructor

Dolly Parton Imagination Library

More than 60 percent of the children from lower-income families in Santa Barbara County have no access to age-appropriate books in their homes. These children often start school behind peers who have been read to by their caregivers. United Way of Santa Barbara County works to close this gap through a partnership with Dolly Parton’s Dollywood Foundation.

This program sends a brand new, age-appropriate book every month to 1,100 local children age 0 to 5. We know that reading to a preschooler is the single best way to prepare them for school. Placing books directly into homes also creates an opportunity for parents and children to spend time together in an enriching way that pays future dividends.

Financial Stability Programs

Through the coordinated efforts of community partners and volunteers, United Way of Santa Barbara County is working to increase financial stability for low and moderate income families (those earning less than $66,000 a year for a family of four). Some have never filed a tax return and have nothing saved for emergencies. We employ a variety of strategies to help them achieve financial stability.

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance  The VITA Program offers free tax return preparation services to lower-income taxpayers. Last year, VITA volunteers filed more than 2,800 tax returns for local families, securing $2.5 million in refunds that can be used to start building long-term assets. In 2018, UWSBC was awarded two competitive grants to expand access to VITA services and increase the number of individuals and families securing the Earned Income Tax Credit in order to help build financial stability.

Affordable Bank Accounts  Lower-income households often have limited access to affordable financial products and services. United Way of Santa Barbara County has partnered with local financial institutions to help these families and individuals create bank accounts that reduce their reliance on predatory payday loan services.

Financial Literacy Education  Establishing savings to cover emergencies, college, or retirement is seldom a priority for lower-income families. Through the financial education components in a variety of programs, United Way of Santa Barbara County shows these families how crucial and effective even a moderate savings plan can be when put in place and adhered to.

Health and Wellness Programs

The most vulnerable members of our community are also the ones most heavily impacted by the high cost of prescription medications, doctor’s appointments, and emergency room visits. Through the United for Health Initiative, United Way of Santa Barbara County combines the efforts of multiple community partners to create programs that help in a variety of ways.

Health Services Discount Cards  United Way of Santa Barbara County partnered with pharmacy benefits manager Coast2Coast Rx to offer free discount cards that let local residents save up to 75% on prescription drugs, dental work, vision and hearing care, diabetic supplies, diagnostic tests, and even veterinary supplies.

Community Grants  In 2018, United Way of Santa Barbara County granted approximately $50,000 to a dozen community agencies that provide direct health services to more than 200,000 individuals and families throughout the county.

Health Screenings  Through Fun in the Sun and other outreach programs, United Way of Santa Barbara County provides hearing, vision, and dental screenings along with referrals to specialists if needed.

Wellness Education  Participants in many United Way programs take part in a Healthy Eating and Active Living Curriculum. It includes nutrition and cooking classes, dental hygiene lessons and supplies, sun safety instruction, and providing participants with healthy meals and snacks, and take-home bags of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Red Feather Ball

United Way of Santa Barbara County’s Red Feather Ball at the Four Seasons Biltmore on October 5, 2018 raised close to $250,000 for Fun in the Sun and United for Literacy. A video shown at the annual gala featured fifth-grader Insharah, who described on-screen her powerful learning experience at Fun in the Sun, where she made crucial gains in academic skills by the end of the summer.

The Volentine Family Foundation was honored as the 2018 Abercrombie Community Excellence Award winner for their outstanding service and generosity within the Santa Barbara community.

Annual Awards

On May 9, 2018 at the Hotel Californian, United Way of Santa Barbara County honored the volunteers, businesses, schools, and organizations who make its community programs and activities possible. The 95th Annual Awards Celebration recognized the dedicated benefactors who contribute their support through fundraising, partnerships, and more.

The efforts of the honorees were fundamental in United Way of Santa Barbara County’s ability to provide programs and services such as United for Literacy and United for Financial Empowerment.

Day of Caring

On Saturday, September 15, 2018 more than 1,100 volunteers picked up paintbrushes, brooms, rakes, and shovels and set to work improving and helping to beautify our community during United Way of Santa Barbara County’s 27th Annual Day of Caring.

Volunteers took on 53 individual projects, ranging from mudslide debris clean-up in Montecito to vegetation work at the Santa Barbara Rescue Mission’s Bethel House and sprucing up around the Santa Barbara Zoo.

Working from 9:00am to noon, volunteers donated an estimated $300,000 in labor. A Thank-You BBQ at Oak Park, generously sponsored by Albertsons/Vons, followed.

Day of Caring is part of a nationwide effort to connect volunteers with beautification and improvement projects that otherwise might not be completed.

Young Leaders Society

The Young Leaders Society provides young professionals in Santa Barbara County with multiple opportunities to become involved in the United Way Programs and Initiatives that are making a positive difference in our community. This dynamic group’s activities promote its members’ professional development, philanthropic involvement, and networking.

In addition to donating hundreds of hours of community service, YLS members raise nearly $80,000 annually to help fund programs that support United Way of Santa Barbara County’s Initiatives for Literacy, Financial Empowerment, and Health.

Women United

2018 marked the official launch of the Santa Barbara County branch of Women United. A kick-off luncheon in February at the Hotel Californian was attended by nearly 150 women leaders from throughout the community.

Part of a national network, the local Women United group will increase philanthropic support and spearhead advocacy efforts for United Way of Santa Barbara County educational programs, including Kindergarten Success Institutes and United for Literacy.

Galvanized by the high numbers of young learners who begin kindergarten behind and are unable to catch up by third grade, Women United is focused on expanding United Way’s early educational opportunities for local children through third grade. Their efforts will ensure that more underserved children and families will be able to achieve success during those crucial early elementary school years.

Under the leadership of Susan Hersberger, the local Women United volunteer chair, members have visited Kindergarten Success Institute classrooms, conducted a group volunteer project for the Day of Caring, learned more about local educational issues, and developed friendships over shared goals.

The Santa Barbara Women United group currently consists of 70 community leaders who are committed to improving opportunities for local children and families.

The mission of Women United is to mobilize a powerful leadership network of women to strengthen the Santa Barbara community through a focused investment of talent, compassion and philanthropy. Women United works to improve the community through participation in enriching volunteer, networking and educational activities.

Planned Giving

Since 1982, a premier group of volunteer estate and financial planning professionals have assisted United Way of Santa Barbara County in offering a variety of ways for individuals to fulfill their philanthropic desires. These gifts provide perpetual support for United Way’s innovative programs that improve the lives of children, families, and seniors in our community.

Visit our website at unitedwaysbgift.org for personal planning tools, donor stories, finance news, and a free Wills and Trusts Guide.

Heritage Club

The Heritage Club was established in 1982 as one of the first United Way planned giving societies in the country. It honors those forward-thinking individuals who choose to improve the lives of others by making planned giving commitments in their estate plans. This vital group of donors has helped United Way of Santa Barbara County’s endowment grow to more than $8.2 million. Additional gifts of $5.5 million are expected.

Heritage Club members are recognized on a permanent plaque at the Stuart Taylor Community Center, in the annual Impact Report, and at the annual Heritage Club Appreciation Luncheon. The 2018 Heritage Club luncheon honored Earl Damitz, Paul Didier, and Sally Walker.

We Salute Our Community Partners

We gratefully acknowledge the outstanding contributions and support of our many community partners. They make Santa Barbara County more vibrant every day, and United Way’s work would not be possible without them. We offer sincere thanks and stand in admiration of their selflessness, hard work, and dedication.

2018 IMPACT REPORT — 43
No one doubts the size and complexity of the challenges we face as we work toward our goal of ensuring a hopeful future for everyone in our community. But, it is also important to take note of the progress that has been made. During the past year, United Way of Santa Barbara County has been able to:

- Increase levels of funding for the programs and nonprofit organizations we support.
- Serve additional at-risk students with effective programs that increase their chances of academic success.
- Help more families gain a sound financial footing and become able to weather unexpected difficulties.
- Give our most vulnerable population greater access to healthcare, and reduce their dependence on emergency medical services.
