JORDAN'S STORY

Meet Jordan. Jordan likes soccer, big dogs, and video games.

Due to school closures, first-grader Jordan had been struggling with distance learning. His mom, Laura, shared with us that Jordan had been having daily emotional breakdowns during virtual class sessions due to frustration when his teacher could not give him individual attention.

Laura and Jordan were elated to learn that United Way was offering safe, in-person, one-on-one tutoring through our new United Learning Center tutoring program.

After only a few weeks in the program, Jordan was eager to start each tutoring session and had not had another breakdown. Instead, he is learning to share his feelings when he feels overwhelmed.

Your support provides individualized attention to students like Jordan who are struggling during these challenging times.

This is just one of several ways that United Way has expanded our programming to better serve local children and families in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond.
